Scope

Catalysis Today publishes Special Issues only. The Journal focuses on the rapid publication of invited papers devoted to currently important topics in catalysis and related subjects. It differs from conventional journals in that each issue is dedicated to a distinct topic, with issues either being prepared under the guidance of (a) guest editor(s) or as a monograph.

Both fundamental and applied aspects of catalysis are covered. While it is expected that many of the issues will be concerned with heterogeneous catalysis, subjects such as homogeneous catalysis and enzymatic catalysis will also be covered. Subjects related to catalysis such as techniques, adsorption, and process technology, etc. will be included if there is a clear relationship with catalysis.

The types of publication covered by Catalysis Today are:

- (1) Collections of review articles or original publications on a common theme.
- (2) Monographs written by a single author or a group of authors covering a specific subject.
- (3) Proceedings of short meetings (symposia, workshops, etc.).

The criteria for inclusion of papers, reviews or monographs are that a single topic is considered and that the contributions are original.

All possible contributions to Catalysis Today should first be discussed in detail with either the Editor or one of the Associate Editors. Authors who would like to prepare an issue should submit a draft proposal in which they indicate the title of the project, give a brief outline of the material which they intend to cover, and a break-down of the project into chapters or papers. For issues of type (1) and (3) mentioned above, it will be necessary to also provide a list of the proposed contributors and the expected titles of their papers.

As in conventional journals, a strict refereeing policy is applied. The publication of material in Catalysis Today that has appeared (or is likely to appear) elsewhere is discouraged. Submission of an article is understood to imply that the article is original and unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.

Publication information: Catalysis Today (ISSN 0920-5861). For 2020, volumes 339–358 (20 issues) are scheduled for publication. Subscription prices are available up on request from the Publisher or from the Elsevier Customer Service Department nearest you or from this journal's website (<http://www.elsevier.com/locate/cattod>). Further information is available on this journal and other Elsevier products through Elsevier's website: (<http://www.elsevier.com>). Subscriptions are accepted on a prepaid basis only and are entered on a calendar year basis. Issues are sent by standard mail (surface within Europe, air delivery outside Europe). Priority rates are available upon request. Claims for missing issues should be made within six months of the date of dispatch.
